

DISASTER RESPONSE: HAITI

HAITI UPDATE: HOW TO HELP

As this tragedy in Haiti unfolds our hearts are broken for the people who are struggling to survive in the midst of unimaginable circumstances. Our first response is to pray for God's comfort, hope and guidance.

Currently, a CityTeam Disaster Response Team is in the process of traveling to Haiti to begin a 3-phase disaster response effort to help rebuild lives and communities within this devastated country. We will be working with local partners who are already on the ground to set up a safe base camp for our workers and future volunteers. In addition, we are working to bring safe water technology units that have the ability to turn contaminated water into safe, drinking water (99.998% bacteria free). CityTeam has been testing these units in Africa for the past 2 years.

You can be a part of this vital relief effort by making an online donation today, just visit www.cityteam.org/disasterresponse. Each gift, large or small, will make a difference. Thank you so much for your support during this crisis!

CityTeam's Disaster Response Teams have taken leadership roles in multiple disasters around the world from earthquakes, to tsunamis, wildfires, and floods. Few people know that CityTeam assisted in Hurricane Katrina for over 3 years rebuilding lives and communities. This is why, last year the NVOAD (National Voluntary Organization Active in Disaster) recognized CityTeam for their effective, long-term approach and saw the need for our organization to help in multiple disasters.
